HEBREW THROUGH MOVEMENT

for part-time Jewish educational programs

Teaching Tu Bishvat as part of Hebrew Through Movement?
Check out your curriculum guide on pages 86 & 87 for this unit's vocabulary.

To complement your work, you'll find in this file some great pictures to print of:

Trees: Use the Hebrew verbs for: run, spin, jump, point, touch, etc.

Planting: Some of these pictures show planting of trees and some show planting of vegetables and flowers. Ask students to identify (point to, touch, run to, etc.) pictures of planting trees (which is what Tu Bishvat is about!). You can also ask them to indicate כֵּן or לֹא as to which pictures illustrate "planting a tree." Don't introduce the words for "flowers" or "vegetables" – the goal here is to teach the Hebrew word for "tree."

Fruit: Lots of fruit – students can run to, jump to, or spin to the pictures of fruit and then touch the picture, hold up the picture, etc. Use real fruit, too!

End your lesson with the blessing over fruit – your students will now know what the blessing means!
